KASU Strengthens Partnership with Sputnik (News Agency)

By: Hamza Musa Makarfi

The agreement also provides avenues for staff development, internships, and participation in international conferences and professional exchanges.

A major highlight of the partnership is Sputnik's plan to engage KASU students and graduates as part of its pioneering staff of its future activities in Nigeria

The partnership is also expected to enhance the capacity of staff within the university's media and broadcasting units through specialised professional training by Sputnik experts.

Members of the delegation described the partnership as an important achievement capable of positioning KASU students and staff for greater international media exposure, professional development, and practical industry experience.

Receiving briefs on the Moscow mission, KASU Vice

Kaduna State University (KASU) has strengthened its international media collaboration with Sputnik, one of Russia's leading global media organisations, following the formal signing of a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) during the recent academic mission to the Russian Federation by the institution's delegation comprising Deputy Vice Chancellor (Academic) Professor Yusha'u Ibrahim Ango and Deputy Vice Chancellor (Administration), Professor Muhammad Bashir Ali as well as former Dean Faculty of Communication and Media Studies Professor Joseph Ayodele.

The partnership, is expected to create wide-ranging opportunities for students and staff of the university in media practice, training, and global exposure.

As part of the collaboration, Sputnik has already commenced training programmes for KASU students in artificial intelligence and content generation, with additional sessions scheduled in the Chancellor, Professor Abdullahi Ibrahim Musa stressed the importance of ensuring effective implementation of all agreements reached during the visit in order to maximise institutional benefits.

"It's like each time we go to Moscow, we see new things happening. We see new opportunities coming to us. So we have started something great, and believing with time, we'll start seeing more of these partnerships manifesting in real terms for the university"
